

International Topographical and Land Use Data Price Sheet

SoftWright LLC is the developer of the Terrain Analysis Package (TAP™). As a terrestrial RF propagation modeling tool, TAP™ requires local elevation data in order to perform propagation calculations. The more accurate the elevation data, the more accurate the TAP™ field strength predictions will be. Digital elevation data are available from a wide variety of sources; however, many SoftWright customers choose to purchase topographical data directly from SoftWright. These data may be shipped along with the software at the time of purchase. Depending on the size of the data file, it is provided on DVD or USB hard drive for use with TAP™.

Land Use – Land Cover data further improve the accuracy of TAP™ calculations by allowing the software to consider local land cover characteristics (e.g., urban, suburban, agricultural, forested, etc.) in the calculations.

SoftWright currently offers the SRTM 1-second (≈30m) resolution data set in DTED format for most of the world. SoftWright also offers MODIS land cover data for most of the world. These data sets are typically priced by continent and individual country. All prices are in US dollars. Discount of 40% provided for a duplicate copy of data purchased at the same time as the original set.
